Andy heads up the UK distribution for Zurich Corporate Savings and leads on the relationship management of the UK strategic partnerships. He is keen to share not only his wealth of experience in the Financial Marketplace but also discuss general Career choices, approach and application. Oxted are delighted to be welcoming this local speaker to the school.

This Future Friday event will not just cover the corporate and financial sectors but really will be a motivational afternoon highlighting employability skills, career paths in general, and decision-making processes.

The event will be aimed at Years 11-13 and we would encourage any Sixth formers with an hour to spare to come along and listen to this invaluable advice.

Andy's breadth of client experience has also included:

- DC sales team for JP Morgan Asset Management
- 20 years as a corporate advisor to large UK based consultancies including KPMG, Deloitte and Mercer

Come along and find out more about the realities of working in the Corporate sector and more importantly hear about valuable life skills key to entering the world of work.
