

Future Friday

Special Effects Sculptor Speaker – Brad Simms

Date: Friday 23 March
Time: 2.20pm – 3.20pm
Location: The Old Hall
Contact: Ms K Lambert klambert@oxtedschool.co.uk to sign up to attend.
Places given on a first come first served basis. Please remember you can only sign up to 3 in a year, so pick carefully!

Brad describes his work as “bringing designs or ideas to life, for the film and creative industries”. Oxted are delighted to be welcoming this speaker to the school.

This Future Friday event will appeal to anyone considering a creative and visual career. This self-taught sculptor originally began his craft working in the props department in theatres. Now a successful self-employed artist working on commissions for Film, Theatre, Television, Madame Tussaud's, Brad will share his expertise with the students and hopefully bring some of his work along for the event.

Brad's breadth of work has most recently included:

- The Alien, Aliens film Prometheus 2
- Yoda, Star Wars, Madame Tussauds
- The Beast, Key Sculptor for Disney's Beauty and the Beast
- Moz, The Monster in the John Lewis Christmas campaign 2017

Come along and find out more about the realities of working in Special Visual Effects and Sculpture, especially if interested in film and model making.