Final Personal Development Day of the School Year

Yesterday we held our final Personal Development Day of the school year, and what an inspiring day it was!

Students in Years 7, 8, 9 and 11 took part in engaging sessions on:

- Consent
- Personal Safety
- Political Parties
- Racism
- Equality

We were thrilled to welcome a brilliant range of external organisations delivering exciting and thought-provoking workshops, including:

- Talk Consent
- Diversity Role Models
- Show Racism the Red Card
- Split Banana

Year 11 students also benefited from additional revision sessions to support them as they prepare for their final exams.

Both staff and students commented on how valuable, informative, and enjoyable the day was.
We're incredibly proud of the enthusiasm shown by everyone involved!
Well done to all our students for making the day such a success!
