True Adventure Skills Training Success

This weekend, a group of students from our school took part in a fantastic training event at Adamswell Scout Campsite.

Throughout the weekend, they worked closely with a qualified and experienced leader who taught them a range of basic expedition skills. They were also introduced to key elements of team dynamics and leadership, skills that will serve them well on future adventures.

The team were additionally joined by a potential leader who was under assessment for future expeditions, giving our students the chance to see leadership development in action. Over the course of the event, the students completed a hike in the local area and took part in a series of realistic scenarios designed to prepare them for situations they may encounter overseas.

We're extremely proud of their enthusiasm, teamwork, and resilience throughout the weekend!
